

FROM OUTDATED TO OUTSTANDING AT AIRE PARK FOR TPT

Delivering Seamless AV Solutions for a Modern, Agile Office.

A specialist in pension management, TPT has clarity and simplicity at the heart of everything they do. Their relocation to the vibrant Aire Park development in Leeds was more than a change of address – it marked a fresh chapter for a growing business.

With a blank canvas to build on, TPT had the opportunity to rethink how workplace technology could empower employees to connect, collaborate, and deliver their mission more effectively than ever before. Universal AV was appointed to transform this vision into a practical, future-ready solution.

THE BRIEF

TPT had decided to move to Airepark, a newly built development offering more space and room to grow. Already using modern audiovisual solutions such as Yealink, the team wanted an AV integrator who could build on their existing technology while delivering a modern, scalable approach for the future.

Their vision included a flexible social space capable of hosting town halls for 120 employees, a professional media room to enhance client communications, and simple, reliable meeting rooms for everyday collaboration. They were looking for a trusted AV partner who could listen, advise, and guide them through every step of the process, transforming broad goals into a future-ready solution.

SERVICES PROVIDED

CHOOSING UNIVERSAL AV

While an incumbent IT provider was initially considered for the project, it quickly became clear that dedicated AV expertise was essential. Overbury, the principal contractor for the Aire Park fitout, recommended Universal AV based on previous successful collaborations.

TPT commented that it was clear to them after initial consultations, that Universal’s approach stood out. Universal offered more than a specification, they provided understanding, advice, and partnership. Universal’s clear guidance, technical expertise, and a strong understanding of TPT’s needs helped shape the vision for each space and gave confidence in the project’s delivery and long-term support.

THE SOLUTION

Social and Town Hall Space

A key requirement was creating a multi-functional social area to host all-company briefings and town hall events. The solution included:

- A large LED display with repeater screens to ensure visibility from every corner of the space.
- A movable lectern for presenters.
- Ceiling speakers for even audio coverage.
- Lapel and handheld microphones for flexibility.
- Camera tracking to allow presenters to move freely while remaining visible to the audience.
- Digital signage capabilities to display key messages when the space was not in use for events.

This professional, reliable setup delivers a consistent experience for all attendees, both in-room and remote.

Media Room

Previously, the client relations team struggled to host webinars or record podcasts professionally, often resorting to working from home due to poor AV capabilities. Universal designed a bespoke solution for the new media room, tailored to TPT's needs:

- Professional-grade cameras, microphones, and lighting equipment for high-quality recordings.
- A simplified setup, allowing non-technical users to produce polished content with ease.
- Room for growth, enabling TPT to expand their marketing capabilities in the future.

This space has transformed TPT's ability to connect with clients and stakeholders, supporting their ambition to stand out in the pensions sector.

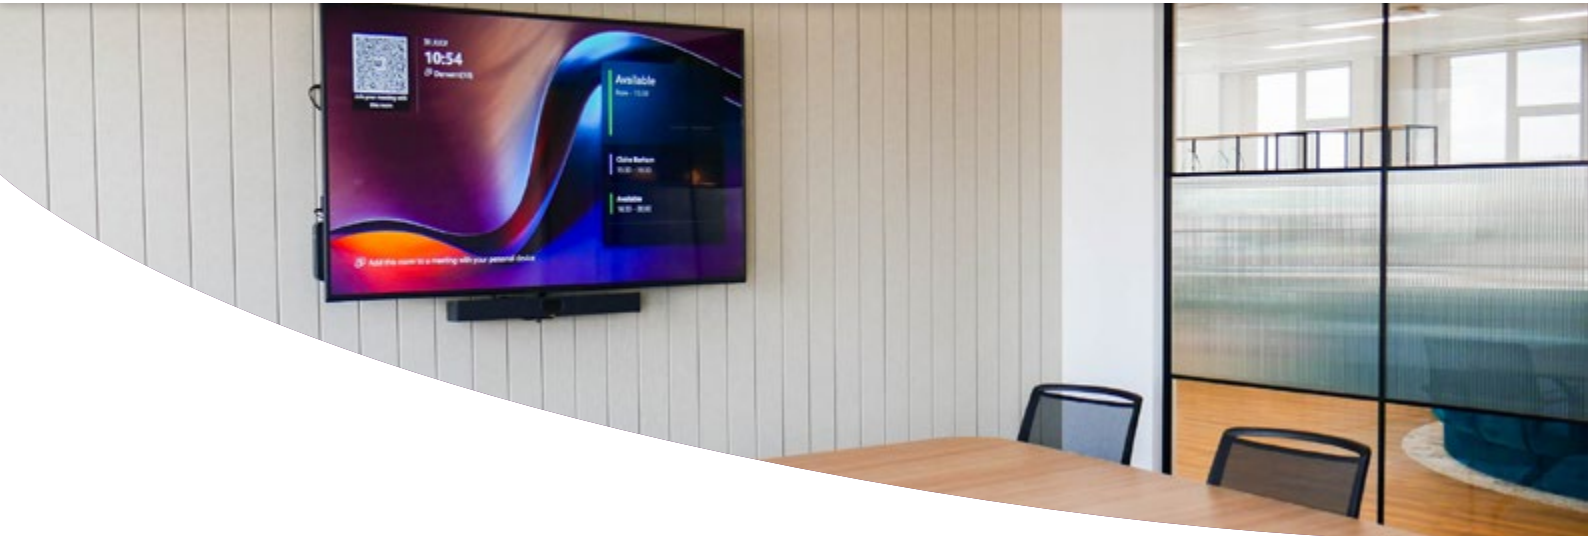

Meeting Spaces

Simplicity was key. Across nine meeting rooms, Universal deployed a standardised Yealink solution:

- Wireless presentation and video conferencing capabilities.
- Integrated ceiling speakers for consistent sound quality.
- Biamp Room booking panels for visibility and efficiency.
- A tidy, cable-free environment to reduce maintenance issues and improve the user experience.

Staff can now walk into any room and start meetings instantly – delivering on TPT's vision for effortless collaboration.

SEAMLESS DELIVERY

Despite infrastructure challenges affecting microphone performance during installation, Universal worked closely with manufacturers and contractors to resolve issues swiftly. Collaboration with Overbury ensured the project ran smoothly, with no delays to TPT's relocation timeline.

The project management from Universal AV received particular praise for clear communication, attention to detail, and making complex technology easy to understand for all stakeholders.

THE OUTCOME

TPT's new Aire Park headquarters is now equipped with a future-ready AV solution that supports its mission of simplicity and high performance:

- Professional, engaging all-company briefings.
- Enhanced client communications and marketing capabilities.
- Frustration-free meeting experiences across all rooms.
- Scalable, long-term technology that will support business growth.

Universal AV's expertise transformed an empty floorplate into a connected, collaborative workplace designed to meet both current and future needs.